

13 of 166 DOCUMENTS

The Sun (England)

October 22, 2008 Wednesday

Go to hell

BYLINE: Dave Finlay

LENGTH: 263 words

Victims applaud as deaf perv gets 12yrs for preying on kids

A PERVERT climbing instructor who preyed on ten deaf kids was caged for 12 years yesterday - as one victim hit out: "I hope he goes to Hell."

Applause broke out in court as beast Colin Macdonald, left, was finally jailed for "disgraceful assaults" dating back more than 30 years.

Some victims bravely waived their anonymity to tell of their relief at the sentence at the High Court in Edinburgh.

Joseph McIntyre, 46, of Balloch, Dunbartonshire, said through a sign language expert: "I feel ecstatic. I hope he goes to Hell."

James Colhoun, 48, of Glasgow, said: "I expected seven or eight years - to hear 12 years was fantastic."

George Drinnan, 45, from London, added: "I am very, very happy. He deserved it. I hope he dies in prison."

George was the first to come forward to accuse Macdonald - and believes there could be more than 100 victims. Skiing and climbing expert Macdonald, 61 - who is himself deaf - was earlier convicted of molesting ten boys between 1973 and 1981.

The evil predator pounced during a series of trips to beauty spots across the Highlands and Western Isles.

Victims and relatives applauded as judge Lord Malcolm sentenced Macdonald.

Blame

He said: "You sexually abused and assaulted vulnerable deaf children who were entrusted to your care.

"You have refused to accept full responsibility for your disgraceful assaults upon them and even tried to blame some of your victims."

Macdonald, of Wakefield, Yorkshire, but formerly from Glasgow, was also put on the sex offenders register.

Go to hell The Sun (England) October 22, 2008 Wednesday

scottish-sun@the-sun.co.uk

LOAD-DATE: November 27, 2008

LANGUAGE: ENGLISH

PUBLICATION-TYPE: Newspaper

Copyright 2008 NEWS GROUP NEWSPAPERS LTD
All Rights Reserved